

Parents' Rules and Regulations

1. All the parents of Najude Pioneer School pupils shall take part in the general meetings of the PTA, which take part at least once in every term. When they receive an invitation letter, it is their duty to appear to the meeting. It is essential for the success of the school that the parents are involved in the decision-making and that they are informed as much as possible.
2. It is the responsibility of the parents to send their children to school and to ensure that they arrive there in time. In cases such as sickness of the pupil or death of relatives, which prevent their child from coming to school, the parents shall write a letter to the class teacher, or give an oral message to a fellow pupil of the child concerned so that the class teacher knows what is going on. Farming or taking care of siblings are in no case acceptable reasons for being absent from school.
3. After holidays, the parents shall send their children back to school on the resumption day, which is announced in a letter given to the pupils before holidays. The parents living far away shall bring their children back to their relatives or to the pupils' quarters some at least one day before resumption, and provide them with all the things they will need during the term, such as a school uniform, stockings and sandals, a school bag, exercise books, writing material, a broom, a hoe and enough food.
4. No parent is allowed to attack a staff member of NPS either verbally or physically, during or after school hours, whatever the reason of his anger may be. The School Management expects the parents to pay due respect the Principal, to all the teachers and to the respective class teacher of their children in particular. If a parent is unhappy with the teaching methods or the performance of a teacher, he or she shall meet him or her and discuss the matter calmly and peacefully. If the problem cannot be solved between the two of them, the parent shall inform the Principal. If necessary, the problem will be carried to the PTA, where a solution will be found. However, if any of the teachers feel threatened by a parent, he or she has the right and the duty to inform the School Management about it. The parent concerned will then be called to explain himself. If necessary, an oral and then a written warning will be given to the parent. The School Management has the right to take any further measure it thinks to be appropriate in order to ensure the security of its teachers.
5. Parents and villagers in general are not allowed to enter the school premises during the school hours. It is not allowed to chat with any of the teachers during the school hours.
6. The school fees have to be paid during the first week of the every term. In addition, every parent has to provide his child with exercise books, writing material, a school bag, a school uniform with stockings and sandals, a broom and a hoe.

7. It is compulsory for every pupil to wear the official blue-white chequered NPS uniform. The uniform has to be acquired from the school. Self sewn uniforms will not be accepted. Stockings and sandals are also available in the school, but it is not compulsory to acquire them from there. The school also sells toothbrushes and exercise books for every class.
8. If a child spoils school property such as windows, rulers and school text books, the parents have to fully cover the costs.
9. No child is allowed to marry or to be married during the time he or she is attending Najude Pioneer School.
10. No parent is allowed to withdraw his child from the school before the pupil completes class six, unless there is a genuine reason such as changing of residence. In such a case, a transfer certificate will be issued out to the pupil. The reason will not be accepted, however, if the parents decide to act without previously informing the Principal. In this case they have to pay a penalty fee to the school. The same applies if the Principal does not accept the reason given by the parent, if the parent does not give any reason or if he or she says the problem comes from the child. As stated above, marriage is in no case an acceptable reason to leave the school.
11. The parents, no matter whether Christians or Muslims, shall always consider that the Najude Pioneer School is not a religious school and does not emphasize on religious education. The priorities are academic knowledge such as reading, writing, English and mathematics, as well as health and agricultural education. No parent shall therefore demand to lay more emphasis on religion, since this is not the aim of the school.
12. No pupil is allowed to repeat a class more than two times. If the pupil does not pass the promotion examination for the third time, he or she will be expelled from the school.
13. By signing the admission form of the Najude Pioneer School, the parents oblige to abide by all the articles stated above to their best knowledge and consciousness. If they knowingly and willingly violate any of the articles stated in this document, the School Management is authorized to take any steps necessary to defend its rights.
